Daniel Wallace Rasch

Carolina's Coordinator of Identity Evropa/American Identity Movement

This article is republished, with permission, from Asheville Anti Racism.

Identity Evropa is at the forefront of the racist "alt-right's" effort to recruit white, college-aged men and transform them into the fashionable new face of white nationalism. Rather than denigrating people of color, the campus-based organization focuses on raising white racial consciousness, building community based on shared racial identity and intellectualizing white supremacist ideology. — Southern Poverty Law Center

We are pleased to introduce Daniel Wallace Rasch, also known as "Tanner – SC" on the newly leaked Discord chat logs of the white supremacist group formerly known as Identity Evropa (IE), currently rebranded as American Identity Movement (AIM).

"Tanner-SC" spent a considerable amount of time on a server called #whitepills before his entire organization was de-platformed. "White pilling" is a play off the alt-right idea that once you take the "red pill" you can see the truth. Their "truth" is filled with antisemitic and islamaphobic conspiracies ranging from Jewish control of all governments to the very extinction of white people as a whole. To "white pill" somebody is to sneak white nationalist ideology into everyday conversations under the guise of being inquisitive and questioning. There are a few far right mouth pieces that have tried to master this ruse with some success, notably Richard Spencer of the National Policy Institute, Jared Taylor of American Renaissance, Milo Yiannopoulos, and Andrew MacDonald. All have paved the way for suit-and-tie nazis to debate for a far darker future, opening up the conversation of mass relocations, genocide of people of color, and ethnostates ran by a fascist white aristocracy. Sometimes these arena-traveling street preachers wear a clownish smile, brow-beating their audience into a frenzy—either way their message and tactics are basically the same. The reality of their views are sugarcoated in the message they broadcast, which is that white people are getting the short end of the stick and it's because of diversity. Their tactic is to introduce these ideas into normal culture via a Trojan horse using language, unchecked statistics, and non-peer reviewed "science" that would never be published in any credible science journal. This is the particular camp that Daniel Rasch was groomed for.

Beyond trying to "white pill normies" in basic settings of society, Rasch has brought his white supremacist views to the classrooms of the universities he studied in. When chatting with his fellow neo-nazis on what they thought was a private server, he brags about his "suit and tie workings" and posts a link to a youtube video of a presentation he gave titled, "White People: Trending Towards Extinction", published 4/6/17 by "Joe Sixpack". This is the only video posted by this youtube user, lucky for us the video's license is labeled as Creative Commons Attribution license (reuse allowed). ¡Gracias!

Oddly enough, I had "leader of political action group" on my resume because I wanted to show extra-curriculars and leadership skills, but it didn't say the leanings of the group. I didn't get any job interviews for months and even had some recommendations freeze contact after sending my resume. Finally one brave soul told me, "I won't hire you because you have that political shit on your resume, take it off and you might actually get a job. I understand your objective, but if you don't plan on being political at work, don't put politics on your resume, even if it doesn't indicate the orientation of your beliefs"

 Tanner - SC 2017-10-06 04:23:40 [Nice Respectable People Group #whitepills] 🔍 🗑️

I just put key performance metrics on the resume under that point and when asked (he was the only one who ever asked), I said "I don't care to discuss the leanings of the group because I don't mix politics with work, but I wanted to demonstrate my achievements while on campus"

So now we have a face and voice for "Tanner." Thank you Daniel for "fanning your own balls," a disgusting thought yet useful to expose your real name and intentions. It is worth mentioning that the beginning of the video is cropped as to hide the title slide which would most likely include the name of the speaker. This is consistent when the video is shared on other websites popular among white supremacists such as Stormfront and voat.

Tanner SC also boasts of being a state coordinator for new members of IE and references bottom lining fascist propaganda distribution (see below)

Daniel Rasch is obsessed with the conspiracy of the "Zionist occupational government" (ZOG), the unfounded idea that Jews secretly run the world. He is so convinced Jews control all the money globally he invests in bitcoins or crypto-currency and he acts as Identity Evropa's online financial adviser, coaching fascists through investments.

 If this wasn't the <#322712586741088256> channel, I'd transition into urbanization too. Because that's another phenomenon and result of technological progress that brings a lot of good to the world, but jews have manipulated things so as to also bring a large amount of bad.

 Absent jew influence, technological progress always brings bad with the good, but it brings far more good than bad.

- * Trump presidency
- * Anonymous flyering of college campuses
- * Free speech event brawls
- * Torchlit rallies
- * Boomers serving as the tip of the spear, plunging into the heart of ZOG with political campaigns backed with "fuck you" money and "I'm already retired, dox me bro" machismo

Alongside the grossly antisemitic conspiracy of secret Jewish overlords covertly breeding white people out of existence, Daniel has become very interested in providing tips about how white men can find suitable white women to date and thus breed with. This dating advice includes going ice skating as it is "very white" and going to revival festivals, which we imagine look white enough for Daniel's taste or lack thereof. He goes on to advise fellow white nationalists to join Church youth groups in order to find a white wife. Daniel himself recently joined a local catholic "youth" group. When we read why, his choice sounds as in-sincere as it does inappropriate. This is an idea originally presented to him by another IE member in the area to find a "traditional" wife to have as many children as possible.

Had a date today with a wonderful woman I met last month at a Celtic heritage festival that one of our local IE guys invited me to. She must be the most wholesome and traditional woman in America who is still single, but not for long. And she's very intelligent, nurturing, and humble. She likes Scottish folk music and doesn't even know the rap songs that play on the loud speakers at sporting events. I'll be asking her to be my girlfriend this week.

EDIT: One of her favorite bands literally identifies their genre as "Trad Irish". I didn't realize the Trad movement is wider than the alt-right.

This would not have happened without IE. Y'all need to get to the soonest European heritage festival in your area and get yourself a pro-white trad girl. I'm over the moon.

Positive peer pressure is a key function of Identity Evropa:

We won't be including any of Daniel's past or present partners in this expose at this time, as he likes to keep his involvement with Identity Evropa and the white nationalist movement a close secret. Therefore, we have no reason at the moment to believe he is being honest/forward about his beliefs, organizing, and financial support of IE with his loved ones and peers. There will be an edit if we find out otherwise. Anybody that is willing to lie to their family and lover would definitely have no problem putting on a mask for their employers and co-workers/clients. Nonetheless, we believe everyone around him, along with the greater public, ought to be fully aware of his active membership in a white supremacist organization and a designated hate group. This includes informing not only his family and employers at Michelin, but also the cycling community that he is embedded in.

And there's maps!

An additional clue solidifying the conclusion that "Tanner-SC" is in fact Daniel Wallace Rasch is his enthusiasm for long distance cycling. While bike frames change as you upgrade and get new gear, things that don't change very often are actual frame size and positioning of the saddle which correlate with body size. So while this might seem to be a small detail to work off of, it was a clue we couldn't ignore. We were looking for a racist racer in South Carolina. The rides that "tanner" would map out and share close the area to the general foothills area of northern South Carolina. One link he shares is of a replication of a ride he went on. The beginning of the screen includes text giving us a first name as it spells out "Dan's ride". He later mentions he is in Greenville area. The two bikes that he posts pictures as his are a 2016 Giant TCR Advanced Pro 2 and a 2017 Cannondale CAADX 105 cyclocross bike. The Cannondale is on a indoor trainer resting on a gray moving blanket in one pic. Various pictures confirm he is in fact in the Greenville/Upstate SC area. Seems Dan prefers biking to other sports because it is "very white" in his mind.

Before moving to Greenville, South Carolina "Tanner-SC" mentions being about a 3 hours drive to Dallas, Texas in 2017. He then later mentions having contacts in Houston. In a different server when once again discussing white birthrates he talks about being from St. Louis, MO originally.

I've also heard good things about the Coursera online courses for this.

I took a Coursera course in Data Analytics learning R and they did a better job than Texas A&M's graduate class on the same topic (I took both).

@Marseille apply to call center jobs online, there might be one in your area. I got a job during last semester at a call center making $17 an hour. If you get it, drop the low paying student job. Call centers love college students because they're ok with short term assignments, are educated, can speak well and follow a flow chart, and don't have to pay them benefits.

 Tanner - SC 2018-01-21 21:52:05 [MacGuyver - Skills & Academics #noncrypto-investing]

Also, any money made right now will be insignificant in a few short years. Make sure the GPA is solid and that you're networking regularly. Practice interviewing, polish resume, get good summer internships, get to know job recruiters from your target companies, attend multiple career fairs. Prep work now could get you a signing bonus or a salary offer that blows away all the part-time work you're doing now.

Although Daniel believed his neo-nazi and white nationalist politics made him a suitable candidate for campus internships, decision makers thought otherwise. Someone should have told him sooner that advocating for genocide as a means of racial cleansing is not considered an "extracurricular" form of "leadership skills". Apparently his mistake cost him "some good internship possibilities".

Tanner-SC posts a lot on the mechanical server about tending to and buying cars. Other posts reveal his age at the time he was posting, his sector and title in the workforce and his family's financial stability. Even his diet will no longer be a secret!

Now we have a better picture of who "Tanner" is. We are looking at a 31 year old white male with a brown fashy haircut with a distinct voice. We are looking for somebody that is originally from St. Louis area and moved to Texas presumably for school and now lives and works in Greenville, South Carolina. This same person also has a high paying job in tire manufacturing and years if manufacturing experience. This person's posts on discord suggests they are highly familiar with the inner workings of business models and finances. They are mechanically inclined and have plenty of advice to offer on automobiles and bicycles. He recommends Trek bikes on discord as they are the most American/nationalist company. The personality behind the handle leans strongly towards privilege, higher education and a know-it-all. They also appear to attend a catholic church in the Greenville area. For somebody who thinks they are so smart they sure made a stupid mistake thinking they could share so much personal information on an infiltrated chat server. With this context to guide us we began digging through known Identity Evropa member's social media (that we will be exposing shortly after this release, muwaha). Whatta ya know we stumbled upon Daniel Rasch's facebook profile.

Not only does Daniel's profile picture look familiar to the "white extinction" youtube video that Tanner SC posted on discord, this Daniel also attended high school at private catholic prep school, De Semet Jesuit High School located in Creve Coeur, a city located in west St. Louis County, Missouri. He later studied at Missouri S&T and Texas A&M University Mays Business School in Houston.

Since 2018 Daniel has positioned himself in the Global Leadership Development Program at Michelin located in Greenville, SC. It would appear that Daniel upgraded to that all-american Trek bike he wanted with his new job, as seen in the cover photo, leaning in that familiar way "Tanner" shot his bikes various times throughout the server. Daniel also has a linkedin account that verifies this information.

The image shows a LinkedIn profile for Dan Rasch. The profile picture is a circular headshot of a man with short brown hair, wearing a suit and tie. The background of the profile banner is a blue geometric pattern. The name 'Dan Rasch' is displayed below the profile picture, followed by the title 'Global Leadership Development Program at Michelin' and the location 'Greenville, South Carolina'. A blue 'Connect' button and a three-dot menu icon are visible. To the right, a list of affiliations includes 'Michelin' and 'Texas A&M University - Mays Business School', with the latter highlighted by a red box. Below this, there is a link to 'See contact info' and a note about '280 connections'. The 'Experience' section is located below the affiliations, featuring two entries: 'Global Leadership Development Program' at Michelin (Jan 2018 – Present, 1 yr 3 mos, Greenville, South Carolina) and 'Strategic Sourcing Intern' at Ameren (May 2017 – Aug 2017, 4 mos, Saint Louis, MO). The second entry is also highlighted by a red box.

Furthermore we found a youtube account under the name Daniel Rasch which features a few videos of modified handgun clips malfunctioning, several bicycle modification videos, video game race car footage and some videos of joy riding in a black corvette with Missouri plates. Not only is the voice in the videos matching up with the speaker of the "suit and tie work" Tanner took credit for in IE servers linked above, but the content and tone is parallel. In one video he names off the exact make and model of the Cannondale bicycle featured in discord leaks, the same bike that was parked on top of a gray moving blanket which is also the same blanket used indoors in videos on Rasch's channel. The exact same Giant bike mentioned above is featured in several videos.

All of these clues match up quite nicely with Daniel's timeline, locations, interests as well as voice and face. To double check on that speech on youtube we looked into the actual classrooms in Houston's Texas A&M business school. We were able to match another video of somebody talking to a group of young entrepreneurs in the exact same room the "White People: Trending Towards extinction" speech was delivered.

This confirmed the speech was presented at the very same school that Daniel Rasch was attending at the same time. Daniel's presentation mentions several professors, one of which is Michael Wesson. Wesson happens to teach at the Texas A&M – Mays Business School. With this knowledge it would be exhausting and redundant to further prove without a doubt that "Tanner-SC" of Identity Evropa is in fact Daniel Rasch; but we will.

On Daniel's facebook profile it appears they attend meet-ups with Lucis Via : Catholic Young Adults of Greenville, which is consistent with "Tanner" announcing they had joined a Catholic youth group to pick up ladies. We wonder what the church would think of Rasch's role as state coordinator of a hate group coupled with his perverted and hyper sexual agenda...
